

To: McKaughan, Colleen[McKaughan.Colleen@epa.gov]
From: Don't Waste Arizona
Sent: Thur 4/9/2015 1:39:22 PM
Subject: Re: delegation agreement between EPA and MCAQD?

I looked through the SIP and didn't see it.

There is a strange issue going on with MCAQD. Despite the MCAQD issuing a permit to a facility with specific conditions about odors and controlling them, when citizens complain of the odors, these complaints are not acted upon and instead are referred to ADEQ. (I know the odor thing is federally enforceable.) Before the facility had the permit, the odor complaints were referred to ADEQ. But after the permit was issued in November, the MCAQD isn't doing what the permit requires. The staff at MCAQD don't seem to understand what they are doing wrong by not enforcing their own permit. Never seen this before. I have sent in a public records request to learn more about their "training."

From: McKaughan, Colleen
Sent: Wednesday, April 08, 2015 8:19 PM
To: dwaz@fastq.com
Subject: Re: delegation agreement between EPA and MCAQD?

Steve,
They might have a SIP-approved program instead of of a delegated program.
Have you checked the sip?
Colleen

Sent from my iPhone

On Apr 8, 2015, at 4:13 PM, "Don't Waste Arizona" <dwaz@fastq.com> wrote:

Hope all is well.

It is my understanding that EPA delegated authorities to Maricopa County Air Quality Department to allow it to administer its air permitting program. When I requested the public records from the MCAQD records person, all that was found is a NESHAPS and PSD delegated authority.

Please let me know if there is such a delegation agreement between EPA and MCAQD. Seems to me that otherwise, the MCAQD wouldn't be allowed to issue air permits.

Thanks,

Steve Brittle
DWAZ

No virus found in this message.

Checked by AVG - www.avg.com

Version: 2015.0.5863 / Virus Database: 4328/9494 - Release Date: 04/09/15